THE PLANT SCIENCE FAMILY REUNION

Growing the future, together.

Connect with Peers | Support Emerging Talent | Ignite Fresh Ideas

Spark Collaboration | Plug into the Agtech Ecosystem

Not your average family reunion.

Join the St. Louis agtech ecosystem for a one-day celebration of innovation, connection, and discovery. Whether you are a researcher, entrepreneur, student, corporate partner, or simply curious about the future of agriculture and plant science, this event brings the full community together in one place. Whether you have called the St. Louis region home for decades or have only recently arrived, you are part of this family.

What to Expect

Curated Talks with Regional Impact

Engaging conversations on agribusiness, entrepreneurship, and cutting-edge science that highlight the strength of the St. Louis agtech ecosystem. These are accessible, thought-provoking sessions you would not typically see at a traditional conference.

Targeted Networking Opportunities

Structured and informal networking designed to connect founders, researchers, and emerging talent. Interactive activities, raffles, and guided engagement help spark meaningful conversations.

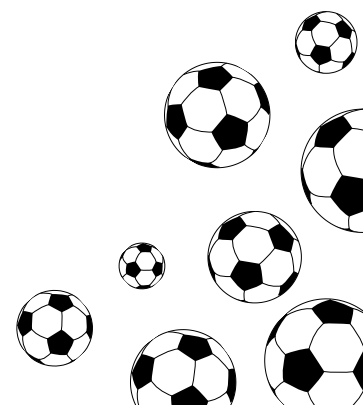

Closing Reception and Ecosystem Showcase

A high-energy happy hour that deepens connections and reinforces St. Louis as a place to build both a career and a community.
